Take a vivid crash course through Christian history unlike any you've taken, populated by intriguing figures and incredible events. In her brisk, conversational style, Dr. Diane Moczar paints a poignant and fascinating picture of the key periods in the Church's infancy with an eye toward parallels to today's current events. Dr. Moczar takes you to Nero's garden party, where the torches lighting the road were Christians set aflame. She describes how Plato's ideals influenced Church thought. She introduces you to the heroes and villains who forever changed Christianity. Along the way, Dr. Moczar poses challenging questions: How would we react if faced with persecution like the early followers ? or like those in China and the Sudan today? How do medicine, law, and other modern-day professions call for decisions that could endanger our faith? Dr. Moczar condenses extensive research and expertise into a provocative and entertaining read that is enhanced by additional resources for the curious student who wants to know more. Don't Know Much About Catholic History takes you to the core of Catholic history and then launches you back to the present to consider our own place on Church history.

This book seeks to truthfully examine the facts that scientists have discovered about the origin of the universe and the beginning of life. Using this information the cases for creation and evolution are discussed with an open mind. The scientific evidence on the subject is recorded. The flaws in some claims are exposed. The readers can therefore form their own opinion on the scientists' interpretation of the facts. Using Christian and Non-Christian historical sources the Christian Churches' beliefs are examined to determine the reliability of the churches' teaching.
