Offering something they can eat on the spot discourages them from digging up neighbours' gardens! Leaving out food uneaten by foxes that could attract unwanted visitors like rats. The bulk of a fox's diet is made up of meat protein, so the best things to feed your local foxes are cooked or raw meat, or tinned dog food.

You can make your fox have long or short fur depending on how far you pull the bag before you stop applying pressure. Repeat until the white on the face is complete. Next, pipe the orange "Foxy Color" on the fox's nose using the same technique as you did with the white frosting. Finish the face by piping the fur on the top of the head.
